NEWS: THE ICONIC STINGRAY IN NEW EDITIONS

Fredericia launches new editions of an award-winning rocking chair by Thomas Pedersen – the iconic Stingray.

Stingray embraces you with its generous shape and offers the perfect spot for retreat and recreation. The functionality of Stingray is what makes this piece special, as it merges both a rocking chair and a footstool, which enables you to sit in countless upright or laid back positions while reading a good book or taking a nap.

Stingray is now available in a new white and dark grey with a smooth matt finish adding a subtle and refined expression to the chair. An exclusive selection of neck cushions, fur throws and frames completes the look of this contemporary design icon.

The hard-wearing surface makes Stingray a perfect choice for both public and residential spaces where its organic shape adds a sculptural, eye-catching expression to the interior.

Stingray can be used outdoors when mounted on a stainless steel frame.

Designer's Quote

"Inspired by nature, the organic shape of Stingray offers a peaceful sanctuary after a busy day – the perfect me-spot. I believe that furniture should first and foremost be designed reflecting the anatomy of the human body. In this belief, I am drawn to the ergonomic freedom of water and the sea, and this very often results in a visual expression resembling the organic shapes given by nature." – Thomas Pedersen

Available from 1 September.
